The Garden Kitchen is a seed to table obesity prevention program through Pima County Cooperative Extension. The focus of programming is on building healthier communities, through policy, system, and environmental changes and providing healthy eating, active living, and gardening events to partner sites and the community with a focus on experiential learning. Many programs are run through The Garden Kitchen to achieve this aim, including SNAP-Ed, EFNEP, DPP, and Culinary Medicine.